REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The combination of features in the independent claims was not found in the prior art. Specifically the prior taught multithreading and multiple streams and changing threads on certain conditions including a branch. However the prior art did not teach determining which stream to fetch based on branch prediction in a processor that has multiple streams and supports multithreading. Instead the prior art [see the article submitted in the information disclosure statement entitled " A Survey of Processors with Explicit multithreading"] taught on page 39, (in column 1) that the switch on branch renounces branch prediction and speculative execution. This teaches away from the use of branch prediction for determining the stream to fetch in a system with multiple streams and that supports multithreading.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
